Creston, B. C.

The small boy has put away his marbles after his Easter holiday week and gathered his books together once more.

The Winlaw log-drive is in earnest now, the drivers fourteen in number have thirty thousand logs to handle. The river is rising slowly making the driving easier for the men.

The Band boys held their annual dance last Friday night, the Band Orchestra furnishing the music.

A special train from Sirdar swelled the already crowded hall to overflowing, the orchestra furnished excellent music and were well pleased with the courteous treatment they received in Creston.

Mrs. Pears and little daughter returned from Kitchener after a week's stay with Mr. Schonert.

The Union Service held at the Presbyterian Church on Easter Sunday was well attended, the church was too small for the crowd, some having to return home on account of not being able to gain entrance. This shows good existing feeling between the different denominations.

Mr. Walter Schonert was called to the phone at Kitchener on April 1st, by the Cranbrook Hospital but Walter says it was no "April fool" but a "boomerang baby boy".

Work on the Gov. Highway will commence here soon. There is a gang already at Sirdar when the link is completed at Sirdar it will be a boon to tourists as at present when passing through they have to ship by train entailing considerable expense.

Finding the Equilibrium

The slow and difficult process of getting the business and productive activities of the country back to a normal level, to which reference was made in this column last week, can, let it be repeated with emphasis, be only successfully accomplished through co-operation on the part of all concerned, and that means everybody. It cannot be accomplished by any one group in the State standing out and insisting on the acceptance of their own ideas irrespective of the effect on others. There must be common promises, resulting in common conditions.

For one thing, it becomes increasingly evident that the Federal Government must revise their present systems and methods of levying taxation on business and productive enterprise, whether such business be agricultural, pastoral, industrial manufacturing, or trade, commerce and services, and all detail matters. The present methods are confusing, complicated and generally unsettling, and constitute a discouragement to enterprise, initiative and increased production. What is now required is something simple, inexpensive in operation, yet capable of producing large revenue to meet the pressing needs of the nation. Such a system is to be found, we believe, in the removal of the present taxation levies on business profits, and the introduction of a general and uniform tax on all business turn-over—that is, a small tax on gross sales in all lines of business activity.

If the Federal Government will take this step, then all business will know exactly where it stands and can proceed to work out permanent policies with a view to expansion and increased production, thus reducing costs and giving business men a better chance to compete with the producers overseas to absorb the larger volume of commodities produced, and at the same time bringing about a reduction in prices which will place such commodities within reach of a much larger number of people.

It should be clear to all of us, and especially to Governments, that the standard of national prosperity to be found in the well balanced industrial, agricultural and financial structure of the country is the one which the people are engaged shall be in proportion to the wants and buying power of the people in all their other occupations. In other words, a national balance between occupations in which people are engaged must be found and maintained.

An expert on economics in the United States sets forth the situation quite clearly when he says that the number of people that can be employed in a given industry is dependent upon the number of people that are employed and that depends upon the price which the consumers have to pay for them. For any commodity there is at any given time a certain price which will secure a larger net result to the producers than any other price. That is to say, if the price be lowered the additional distribution will not compensate for the sacrifice, and on the other hand, if the price be raised the loss will be greater than the gain in price. The exact nature of the point where railway freight rates reach a maximum of revenue is not increased beyond that figure the rates charged operate to decrease the volume of freight carried so that the higher charges actually mean less revenue.

It must be borne in mind that everything that is offered for sale, whether it be an article of goods or the services of an individual or corporation, is in competition, not only with like goods or service, but with all the multitude of attractions that are appealing to every consumer. Under these conditions it is folly on the part of an individual or group of individuals to think that he or they have it in their power to arbitrarily fix wages and prices for themselves. They may have the power to fix, and even maintain, wages, rates and prices, but they cannot escape the effect it will have on the market price of the article.

A striking example of the truth of this statement was shown in New York City last fall. The printers there wanted more wages and a board of arbitration awarded it to them, without, apparently, taking into consideration the state of the printing business and its relation to the general business situation. The result was a general increase, by mercantile and printing, aggravated the situation, resulted in such a substantial decrease in the market that hundreds of men were laid off, and the actual amount paid in wages was smaller and not larger than before the increase was made.

That illustrates the whole situation. It is shortsighted to always think that what is good for one is good for all. The employer and employee, and that the employer either pay it out of his own pocket or pass it on to the consumer. If the consumer cannot pay, the employer will not long be able to do so, and unemployment is the inevitable result. There is a relationship between industry and all the other industries which must be taken into account and maintained.

There is also a certain amount of competition in the market, which must be maintained in the occupations in which people are engaged. That balance must be ascertained in order that the products or services of each group may be absorbed by all the other groups. When the balance is lost, unemployment results and continues until a redistribution is worked out, so that again everybody is at work and all the products are absorbed, either at home or abroad, a result which can only be realized.

The co-operative efforts of all organizations and individuals must be directed towards finding that equilibrium in occupations, in wages, in production, in order that prosperity may be established. It can only be accomplished by concession and compromise on the part of both Capital and Labor, employer and employee.

"Your Teeth"
By Rea Proctor McGee, M.D.,
D.D.S., Editor of Oral Hygiene.
INLAYS IN TEETH.
Copyright, 1921, by Rea Proctor
McGee.

An inlay is a filling that is made outside of the mouth and when finished is fastened in the tooth cavity with cement. The making of inlays is a very ancient process that was an art for many centuries. The Aztecs of old Mexico used a green stone inlay in their teeth. The green stone was not used to save cavity but was used for decorative purposes. The Aztec nobility had fanciful designs cut in their front teeth probably tribal marks on the order of our coat-of-arms, then the green stone was cut in and the cavity cemented with a very durable transparent cement. The durability of these prehistoric inlays is proved by the fact that there are in existence a number of Aztec skulls with green stones still in the teeth.

Porcelain were the first to be made in modern times.

Porcelain was used because it can be made to closely approximate the color and characteristics of the natural teeth.

The making of an inlay is very difficult, but the result is so satisfactory that many are made for fillings where gold would be objectionable.

The gold inlay is now very widely used. There are many ways to make them but the object is the same, that is, to perfectly fill the cavity, to restore the original contour, and to be durable. All of these things a gold inlay does. It is a miniature casting that is required to make a gold inlay a work of art in most cases. Gold inlays are made with remarkable accuracy, and as they are made outside of the mouth, they are much less painful than gold fillings that must be made in the mouth. When a good gold inlay is better for the tooth than a gold filling that is also good is not yet decided. I would say that either one is all right.

A Product Small, But Costly

Manufacturing Plant Works Whole
Year to Produce Small Amounts of Bismuth.

When the total product of a manufacturing plant for a whole year weighs only eighteen grams, its output cannot be described as large, but nevertheless, when eighteen grams cost $16,000, can you imagine exactly?

This is the record for 1920 of the Standard Chemical Company of Pittsburgh, all the energies of which are devoted to the extracting from the carnotite ore of Colorado.

The demand for radium it seems, is what the market reporters call "steady." Most of the precious stuff is used in medicine, but a little goes into cosmetics, perfumes, and the hands of watches and clocks. For the latter purpose the process of concentration is not carried anything like as far as it must for the doctor.

As a cancer remedy, especially in cancerous conditions, radium has not yet justified all of the hopes it at first excited, but its efficacy is slowly increasing with added knowledge and experience.

It is by far the most expensive of all the radium products to employ a word now viewed a bit askance in scientific circles—and none other is anything like as interesting.

Saskatchewan is Ready to Cope With Trouble When It Comes.

An extensive outbreak of the grasshopper plague in Saskatchewan was an imminent apprehension this spring. But the province will not be caught napping. Already 70 tons of arsenic is now on the way from the east for the provincial department of agriculture, which is making preparations for the anti-grasshopper campaign.

The department plans to concentrate, in Regina, sufficient material to supply the whole province with arsenic, and to maintain practically the same form of organization for combating the insects as used last year will again be in vogue.

Dairyman has good Success with Sunflower Silage

Further reports on the result of the experiments of sunflower feed for dairy cattle indicate that these are very satisfactory, so George E. Hart, of the Department of Natural Resources of the C.P.R. Ltd., told of the experience of Bert Tiffen of Lethbridge, whose herd in December, January and February, 1920, produced milk worth $1,128.83. Last year Mr. Tiffen planted 50 acres of sunflower and from the number of cows he got milk that brought him $1,484.04, an increase of $55.11. His silo cost less than $500. Previously he needed all his winter section to supply his herd but his sunflower yield was so large that he has been able to spare 50 tons of alfalfa, worth about $700, for the market so that even with the expense of his silo he will have a net cash surplus of more than $700. Added in the value of his silo he has found that the sunflower fodder has more than $1,200 increased revenue to him. As a consequence of this and other satisfactory results Mr. Tiffen is convinced that sunflowers are destined to be a standard Alberta crop. For one thing they are very easily grown and yield abundantly, and for another they produce more butter fat and the cattle like the ensilage they produce.

Show Farmer Friends How it is Done—Once Safe Export, Now U. F. O. O. Secretary

TORONTO.—J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario as an expert safe operator gave a demonstration at the U. F. O. headquarters to some prominent United Farmers. The secretary had placed some important papers in the safe after a meeting of directors, but could not lock it. He took the mechanism apart, remedied the defect, and then locked the door.

Mr. Morrison informed the U. F. O. men that he had spent 10 years opening safes in various parts of Canada before fire, and that he had been a professional "safe breaker" but had given up the occupation as there was more money in farming. Since he had closed the safe so satisfactorily, the farmers asked Mr. Morrison to open it without using the combination, this he did with the use of a small file, a paper knife and a walking stick to the astonishment of the group.

Mr. Morrison has not had a holiday in ten years, and has been ordered by the U. F. O. directors to take a month's rest.

THE SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL OF ALBERTA

Edmonton, Alta., March 15th, 1921

A delegation of over four hundred prohibition people of the Province received a splendid hearing before the Premier and members of the cabinet last week. Many parts of the Province were represented on this delegation.

Rev. W. G. Brown, President of the Social Service Council, presented the case for the Prohibition people, emphasizing the fact that the largely signed Moderation League petition did not represent the people. The General Secretary gave facts and figures as the result of the referendum and the decrease of crime in the Province. Mr. P. Baker, Vice President of the U.F.A., gave a strong presentation of the desire of the farmers for more stringent Prohibition. Rev. W. A. Smith, Moderator of the Conference of the Methodist Church, Rev. F. D. Roxburgh, Chairman of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church and Rev. G. A. Clarke, of the First Baptist Church, Edmonton, spoke for their individual churches.

Rev. Capt. Carruthers, Edmonton, spoke for the women of the Province, expressing confidence in the Premier himself as a strong Prohibitionist, but made some extremely forcible remarks regarding not only the indifference of the general public, but the indifference of other members of the Government toward the enforcement of the Liquor Act.

Responding the Premier said, "The Government has only one mandate from the people," and he assured the delegation that "his government was not going to take the responsibility of 'monkeying' with the Liquor Act. As to the enforcement of the law they had no friends and would prosecute anyone found guilty of breaking the law."

The Premier stated that he was receiving telegrams and resolutions daily from all parts of the Province protesting against any action being taken in response to the Moderation League petition.

The matter of amendments will be up for discussion in the Legislature in a very few days and the results will soon be before the people.

The Social Service Council of Alberta.

Will Have New Coin

Canada Will Mint Seven Million Nickels Next Year.

The resolution, notice of which was made in the house by Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, is Canada, with shortly have a new five-cent piece composed of pure nickel. The new coin will be the same size as the present five-cent piece.

The American five-cent piece which is popularly called a "nickel" and is generally thought to be composed of the nickel metal, is in reality only 25 per cent nickel and 75 per cent base metal.

all Canadian metal money pieces may have the same face the new piece will bear the familiar features of His Majesty and the words, "George V Del Gra Rex Et Ind. Imp." There may be some slight variation in the under side of the coin. If legislation is passed authorizing the mint to issue the new coin, a new coin 70 grains and to make the same size or very nearly the same size, as the new Canadian one cent piece.

With Western Canadian steelworks reduced to between 800 and 2,000, the Government has created a national reserve extending over $5,000, near Memram, Alberta, with the intention of using it to assist the Foresty Association one thousand dollars to assist the campaign this year.

Shelter Belts of Trees

A Tree Planting Campaign for Prairie Province Again This Year.

The Canadian Forestry Association, which conducted a very successful educational campaign in the three prairie provinces last summer, has decided to extend the enterprise this year so as to cover the eighth month. Mr. A. C. E. Mitchell, former president of the association, will be again in charge of the Tree Planting Car, which made itself a welcome visitor in scores of prairie communities during 1920, is being re-fitted and is due to open on the most modern motion picture equipment. New picture films are being made ready for this year's campaign.

The direct object of the Canadian Forestry Association's campaign is not only to beautify the homes of prairie settlers, but to combat the increasing damage through soil drifting and the blowing out of crops by getting popular co-operation in the planting of shelter belts. The shelter belt of trees is now widely recognized by prairie settlers. Recognizing the great value of this enterprise to the southern portions of the provinces, the Saskatchewan Government granted the Forestry Association one thousand dollars to assist the campaign this year.

Antelope Sanctuary in Alberta

With Western Canadian steelworks reduced to between 800 and 2,000, the Government has created a national reserve extending over $5,000, near Memram, Alberta, with the intention of using it to assist the Foresty Association one thousand dollars to assist the campaign this year.

Several reasons are advanced in favour of the new scheme. Nickel mines are at present very nearly at a standstill and although the metal required to make 7,000,000 such coins as are suggested is not large, "every little bit helps" in making the wheels of industry go round.

During the high price period of silver it was found that the value of the Canadian five and 25 cent pieces was less than its intrinsic metal value. Consequently many people melted down their silver coins and melted down the silver pieces of the present, according to a return brought down in the House.

Mr. Lars. Johnson was calling Mr. Gagnon for some advice and help, as Mr. Gagnon is always willing to help his neighbours who have arrived at Mr. Johnson's home. When he entered the house he found the checkers on the table and the "How Island Review" beside it which told of the beating Mr. Johnson had received. After Mr. Johnson had put his eye-glasses in the right position the game started, and the result has been that Mr. Gagnon was four times the loser and only once the winner. For some reason or another Mr. Johnson had taken his eye-glasses away and he claims that was the reason he lost one game. The neighbours are talking now, that Mr. Gagnon has decided to go into heavy expense and buy a good pair of eye-glasses. Just like other dethroned kings Mr. Gagnon will soon move away, but not to another country he is and wants to stay a Canadian, his intention is to go to another province and try to regain some of his lost fame.

Burdett News

From our own Correspondent

On Sunday last the G.W.V.A. held their first annual meeting in the Club. There was a fair attendance. Many Burdettians in town to the numbers were drawn in to see the new regulations as to Life Insurance, under the amended scheme the returned man should let the chance pass to secure a Policy as without doubt now it is a good deal for him.

The question of a Memorial to those who suffered from Burdett and who gave their lives was taken up, the Branch feels that time has arrived for something to be done, a delegation of two was named to interview the Village Council at their next meeting to place the Returned Men's Fund before them.

From the Secretary's report it appears that the branch is in a satisfactory position although they have no money to spare as they have expended a good deal in help during the winter.

The officers for the ensuing year were then elected as follows:

President C.C. Fielding
Vice Pres. Geo. Kelly
Sec.Treas. Geo. Kelly
Executive Committee A. Kerckham, E.J. Welsh H.P. McPhail

Trustees the three officials.
